BHCAC belongs to the Christian & Missionary Alliance denomination of Australia. It has three congregations of around 260 individuals: Cantonese (approx. 140), English (approx. 40) and Mandarin (approx. 80). It is seeking an English Pastor to serve the English congregation.

The successful applicant will lead a ministry team in developing biblically grounded believers through fellowship, discipleship and sermons, with the core intention of their role being to support the English Congregation members grow spiritually first and foremost, and to secondly have a focus on evangelism and outreach and in pastoring the English Congregation to do the same.

The English Congregation has recently transitioned to renting a local community centre in the Hills District – with the hope that in the next 3-5 years, the intention is for the English Congregation to become autonomous in looking after their own financial needs, and in developing an outreach strategy for the local community.
